Free Audit Sample: Never Boring AI

Homepage and pricing page review + a sample welcome email, by Abdul Tahir, B2B Email Copywriter. Independent sample based on publicly visible pages. Not affiliated with Never Boring AI.

What already works

The anecdote memory idea (posts written from your real stories, not generic prompts) is the strongest thing on the page. It is what separates the product from every post generator. The copy should lead with it.

3 gaps worth fixing

| Gap | What I saw | Fix |
|---|---|---|
| 1. Headline reads like a translation | "Turn what you live into a post LinkedIn that brings you clients." The word order is off for English readers, and "what you live" is not how an English speaker says it. | "Turn your week into LinkedIn posts that bring you clients." |
| 2. Proof does not match the promise | The headline promises clients. The testimonials say "Super easy to use" and "Great tool, smart agent!". Nothing shows a user landing a client. | Lead with one testimonial about inbound leads or a client won. Put it directly under the headline. |
| 3. Sign-up ends at a paywall | After sign-up the visitor lands on the pricing page ($19.50 first month, then $39). No free trial is visible, so anyone who leaves has no reason to come back. | Email has to do the bringing back: a welcome that shows the "aha" moment, then a checkout reminder. |

Sample email 1: the welcome (sent within 5 minutes of sign-up)

Subject: Your first post is 5 minutes away
Preview: Tell your agent about your week. It does the rest.

Hi [First name],

Thanks for signing up for Never Boring.

Here is the fastest way to see if it works for you: open the chat and tell your agent one thing from your week. A client call, a mistake, something that surprised you.

It turns that into a LinkedIn post in your voice. Nothing goes out until you approve it.

[ Write my first post ]

Your first month is 50% off ($19.50), no commitment, so you can test it on a real week of posting.

The rest of the sequence

Email 2 (24 hours, if no first post): a 3-line reminder with an example of a post written from one small story, plus the 50% offer. Email 3 (day 3): last reminder about the 50% first month, with one line on what the weekly content calendar looks like.
